Dear Father Kezys:

Mr. Beckman and I enjoyed our Sunday visit with you very much and I have thought a great deal about your exhibition and the rapid expansion your talents have made during the last year. I wish only that I could have seen the show on more than one occasion for I like to return again and again to photographs I like very much.

The show was very much in my mind while I was at home yesterday and now I am back at the museum where I have been busy shaping our schedule for the next year. I hope it will be agreeable with you to have a showing of your work here from May 25 through July 18 (1965). I shall talk with you about this at an early date and sometime after Christmas we will make a selection of the subjects to be exhibited. As I have already seen enough photographs in you last two shows to make another large and stimulating exhibition and as they are in formats ready to be shown, I believe there will be little new work and trouble involved in whatever we choose.

I do hope all this is agreeable with you for it will be a great satisfaction to exhibit your work here where it will be enjoyed and appreciated by many people.

With best regards to you and to Father Markaitis,

Yours sincerely,

Hugh Edwards, Curator of Photography.
